Briefing for Delegations on a new UN study

Governing Globalization: Issues and Institutions

The gap between global economic challenges and the capacity of multilateral institutions to deal with them is growing wider. A resulting sense of frustration, both from policy makers and citizens, is already provoking a backlash against globalization. This newly published study by UN WIDER (World Institute for Development Economics Research) examines the origins of this governance gap. It assesses the record of the multilateral economic institutions in the face of globalization pressures and puts forward suggestions on how the gap might best be closed. Particular emphasis is given in the study to global macroeconomic management, the frequency and intensity of financial crises, the unchallenged authority of transnational corporations and the cross-border movement of people.

Professor Deepak Nayyar, the Editor and Co-Author of the book will speak at the briefing. Mr. Yilmaz Akyüz, Director of the Division on Globalization and Development Strategies/UNCTAD, who is a contributor to the book, will chair and speak at the briefing. Other authors include Gerry Helleiner, José Antonio O'campo, S.P. Shukla, Joseph Stiglitz.

Copies of the book will be made available to delegations at the briefing.

The Government of Japan has kindly contributed to financing the dissemination of this publication.
