The report contains highlights and examples, selected among the many entrepreneurs supported by the centres (empretecos and empretecas), showing the programme's outreach and impact. Each story tells about entrepreneurs' (empretecos) passion and pride for their business. It shows how Empretec contributed to changing their lives, creating and improving their business opportunities.

All information contained in this report has been provided by Individual Empretec National Centres, under their own responsibility, and has not been verified or certified by UNCTAD.

PART 1: INTRODUCTION

Introduction to the Empretec Programme

Empretec - Inspiring entrepreneurship

Empretec inspires entrepreneurs in developing countries and economies

in transition to start, grow and develop their businesses. The main beneficiaries are aspiring entrepreneurs, women entrepreneurs, small businesses, young people and employees of large public or private firms («intrapreneurs»).

The Empretec Programme is implemented through its National Centres, currently operative in 36 countries. Since its formation in 1988, Empretec has successfully trained over 340,000 people, helping to found or expand businesses, creating thousands of jobs in the process.

The centres also assists entrepreneurs in the preparation of business plans and in obtaining finance for their business ventures, helps to arrange mutually beneficial connections with larger national and foreign companies, and builds long lasting bonds and networks.

Empretec has been proving its positive impact over 25 years of existence since its first launch in Argentina. For example, in Brazil, where Empretec has 27 local training centres across the country, data shows that the survival rate of SMEs of Empretec graduates is almost twice higher than that of non-empretec, and that over 80% of participants reported a steady and efficient growth of their business as a result of participation in the programme. By now it has expanded to 36 countries across the world, with a growing list of requests for further Empretec installations from more than 20 countries.

At the heart of the Empretec service is the Empretec Training Workshop (ETW) programme. This promotes a methodology of behavioural change that helps entrepreneurs put their ideas into action and aids fledgling businesses to grow. Training provision is delivered by 600 local certified trainers and a pool of approximately 60 international master trainers. All trainers are also entrepreneurs.

The workshop's experience is very enriching, building an emotional bond among the participants and the network. The examples featured in this report also show how empretec and empretecs around the world valued the Empretec training and how it made a difference in their business growth.

This year in review: Highlights

- UNCTAD finalized the revision of 6-day Empretec Trainer's Manual, which will be released in 2014. The new manual incorporates and standardizes the adaptations the ETW has gone through over the past 25 years. It also includes a new module on innovation, and it emphasizes the reinforcement techniques (internal locus of control). The manual is meant to be used by trainees, starting their Empretec certification as trainers; however it is also a reference for certified trainers adopting the 6-day training format, providing all partners with high quality training materials, and preserving the Empretec methodology.
- Entrepreneurship policies have been the topic of a high-level segment organized during the fifth session of UNCTAD's Investment, Enterprise and Development Commission (Geneva, 29 April – 3 May 2013). Ministers and leaders discussed opportunities and challenges for enterprise development in their respective countries, particularly focusing on entrepreneurship policy as a crucial means for improving the entrepreneurial climate. Speakers endorsed UNCTAD's Entrepreneurship Policy Framework (unctad.org/diae/epf), highlighting its impact and requesting advice on its implementation. For instance, the Republic of Ghana requested UNCTAD's assistance in organizing a workshop on the development of a dedicated entrepreneurship and SME policy and strategy for the country.
- The 16th International Business Forum on "Green and Inclusive Business", organized by the German Agency for International Cooperation (GIZ), provided UNCTAD and Empretec Directors with an opportunity to contribute and participate to various sessions, with a focus on youth entrepreneurship and entrepreneurship policies (Box 1).
- The 20th Empretec Directors Meeting took place in Istanbul, Turkey, in October 2013, in parallel to the Forum (Box 2).
- UNCTAD celebrated the Global Entrepreneurship Week in November, with a town hall meeting on Youth Entrepreneurship for Development, in collaboration with the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO), the Youth Employment Network (YEN), the University of Geneva and GENILEM. Over 110 young participants attended the event (Box 3). UNCTAD also participated in the Annual Global Entrepreneurship Congress (Box 4).

Box 1. Highlights of the 16th International Business Forum: «Green and Inclusive Business - exploring and developing markets for sustainable growth.»

For many years, the IBF has been organized by the German Agency for International Cooperation (GIZ), on behalf of the German Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development (BMZ), to foster dialogue among governments, the private sector, and civil society on how to promote and disseminate sustainable business models in emerging economies and developing countries. The IBF brought together over 250 participants from 74 countries and provided the Empretec network with an opportunity to participate and contribute to various sessions.

Entrepreneurship Policy: The session «Strategies, Incentives and Partnerships: Which policy options do governments have to promote green and inclusive business?» introduced workshop participants to proactive government policies to promote businesses working for social and environmental impact and better meet the needs of the private sector. Empretec Uganda's Director, Mr. Charles Ocici, was one of the main speakers in this panel.

Business Linkages in Africa: Mr. Gabriel Musentekwa, Empretec Director, Zambia Development Agency, shared his experience on "IBF Impulse! Realizing Africa's Wealth: How to Build Ecosystems that Foster Inclusive and Green Business in Africa and Beyond." Mr. Musentekwa commented on his experience in managing the business linkages in the joint UN project - led by ILO (in collaboration with UNCTAD; FAO; ITC and UNEP,) on the construction value chain to build green low and middle income residential housing and expand green and decent jobs.

Ms. Tatiana Krylova participating in the IBF's panel on youth entrepreneurship training was ranked as «outstanding» and «one main highlight of the IBF» by most of the 30 participants (full capacity) and helped gain significant exposure with the donor and UN partner agencies present. The workshop introduced entrepreneurs and institutions attending the IBF to UNCTAD's EMPRETEC training methodology.

EMPRETEC Business Networking Challenge: Ms. Xiomara Frias from Empretec Dominican Republic and Mr. Nana Tweneboa Boateng from Empretec Ghana animated a two-day workshop which offered participants multiple opportunities for networking, enhanced their entrepreneurial behaviours and strengthened their commitment to sustainability, quality and efficiency. It was based on Empretec's 'learning by doing' approach, introducing for the first time this methodology in Turkey. The participants had very enthusiastic feedback on the training and appreciated the relevance of the behavioural approach for entrepreneurs across different regions of the world. In the evaluation, participants noted the Empretec's unique focus on soft skills and attitudes as opposed to the traditional trainings on management and technical knowledge. The

Box 2. 20th Empretec Directors Meeting (Istanbul, Turkey, October 2013)

The 20th Empretec Directors' annual meeting took place in Istanbul, Turkey. It provided a platform for a rich exchange of experiences and best practices among the 24 participants, representing 21 countries.

Participants discussed the following issues and agreed on a list of activities that would help further strengthen the Empretec network:

- Closer cooperation and better coordination at regional and global levels among all centres and UNCTAD;
- Strengthening the training process through regional training-of-trainers;

Participants to the 20th Empretec Directors Meeting, Istanbul, Turkey (October 2013)

Participants to the 20th Empretec Directors Meeting, Istanbul, Turkey (October 2013)

- Development and implementation of sustainability models for the centres, including through the expansion of their portfolio of products;

Box 3. The UN celebrates the Global Entrepreneurship Week

The United Nations community has successfully celebrated the Global Entrepreneurship Week 2013 on 20 November at the Palais des Nations, with a town hall meeting on Youth Entrepreneurship for Development, in the presence of the ambassadors of Colombia, Italy, Mexico and Portugal. The session was organized with the collaboration of both UN and non-UN partners, among them UNCTAD, WIPO, the Youth Employment Network (YEN), the University of Geneva and GENILEM. The meeting was attended by more than 110 young participants. It illustrated the extraordinary development potential of youth entrepreneurship and how it may offer a means of tackling youth unemployment, a dramatic problem that is affecting developed and developing countries alike. The keynote speaker was Prof. Raul Cuero, founder of the International Park of Creativity in Colombia. He spoke about how science, creativity and innovation are instrumental in developing a generation of dynamic and ground-breaking entrepreneurs. The forum featured a panel of entrepreneurs, each at different stages of their businesses. It also included a second panel which focuses on how to leverage support network for young entrepreneurs. The panellists represented institutions including the World Economic Forum, Start-Up Chile and Unitec at the University of Geneva, among others. They underlined the importance for young entrepreneurs to interact with external actors who can help them to overcome obstacles, to learn from failures and to fully unleash their creative potential.

Box 4. Global Entrepreneurship Congress in Rio de Janeiro

UNCTAD participated in the 2013 Global Entrepreneurship Congress that took place on 18-21 March 2013 in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. About 700 civil society representatives, entrepreneurs and policymakers from 120 countries attended the Congress and explored ways to work together to create an enabling environment for entrepreneurship, in particular for start-ups and young firms. UNCTAD presented its Entrepreneurship Policy Framework in an interactive panel that included senior experts from Brazil, the United States of America Agency for International Development, the Aspen Network of Development Entrepreneurs and Babson College.

The panel discussed policies that pay more attention to scaling up businesses. They agreed that a vibrant “start-up community” is required before getting to the point where companies can scale up. Panelists debated the role of Governments and whether a hands-off or a proactive approach would be more adequate. They suggested several regulatory measures, such as reducing red tape, enhancing skills development, implementing fiscal reforms, providing flexibility in labour policies and introducing incentives for innovation.

Women in Business Award finalists visit Vecoplan plant in Canada

Ms. Patricia Paz Silva Giordani of Brazil, who won the 2nd prize in the 2012 Empretec Women in Business Award (WBA) in Doha, Qatar, was joined by Ms. María Carlota Guevara of El Salvador, another Finalist of the Award, on a study tour to Edmonton, in the Province of Alberta, Canada, from 17 to 23 June 2013.

The businesswomen – who competed for the prestigious Award with Finalists from Ecuador, Ethiopia, Jordan, Nigeria, Panama, Uganda, Vietnam and Zimbabwe – won the UNCTAD-sponsored study trip in recognition of their entrepreneurial achievements in their environmental services companies: Moura e Paz (Patricia) and AURORA (María Carlota).

The study tour, co-sponsored by environmental services company Vecoplan, entailed visiting a trade fair and conference as well as networking and informational meetings with leading companies in the field, resulting in several concrete business leads. Said Ms. Guevara: «The trip to Edmonton was like going to another world, I had the opportunity to tour the Vecoplan waste treatment centre, which uses a state of the art eco-efficient process. My entrepreneurial thinking has evolved in the blink of an eye. Hearing the experiences of other institutions and companies was very rewarding, and this is a great boon for the future of my company, the communities we work with and my country as well».

For Ms. Silva Giordani, the greatest takeaway from the trip was the recognition that, thanks to companies such as her own, Brazil is increasingly perceived as a leader in environmental technology. «Participation in an event of this level adds security as an entrepreneur,» she said.

UNCTAD's Entrepreneurship Policy Framework featured in workshop in Ghana

Together with the Ministry of Trade and Industries, UNCTAD organized a two-day High Level Workshop on the Development of a dedicated Entrepreneurship and SME Policy and Strategy for the Republic of Ghana on 19 and 20 November 2013. UNCTAD's Entrepreneurship Policy Framework provided a baseline for the discussion between the participants, which included the main players of Ghana's entrepreneurial ecosystem and stakeholders working in private sector development, including EMPRETEC Ghana. The success of the workshop was highlighted in the feedback of the participants who emphasized its relevance and timeliness. Malaysia's SME Master Plan was shared during the workshop and was highly appreciated by the Ghanaians as an example of a country success story. The participants divided themselves into working groups and expressed their commitment to continue work in each of the identified policy areas after the workshop. An outcome report of the workshop has been completed by UNCTAD which will provide starting guidelines, feedback and initial recommendations for further work towards an integrated Entrepreneurship and SME Strategy.

Ad Hoc Expert Meeting on Youth Entrepreneurship

Youth entrepreneurship continued to be at the forefront of discussions this year at our recent ad-hoc Expert Meeting, which focused on examining and sharing good practices on how entrepreneurship may offer a means of tackling youth unemployment. A prominent number of experts on youth entrepreneurship from the public, private and NGO sector were present and debated on the main challenges and specific needs of the youth entrepreneurship agenda. Empretec Jordan Director, Mr. Nayeh Stetieh, brought testimonials from the Empretec network, which highlighted the challenges facing young entrepreneurs. Experts agreed on the need for concerted efforts at the national level to address youth entrepreneurship specific needs as an important way to address growing youth unemployment on the one hand, and as a facilitator of economic growth on the other as it allows capturing creativity and innovativeness of young people.

Sister Jenny: A professional nurse turns into a persistent entrepreneur

Sister Jenny has been a professional nurse for many years. She has a lot of experience in healing people, having spent time in emergency rooms dealing with severe burns and wounds. Jen-Til Touch, founded in 2000 by Sister Jenny, has developed healing creams made with therapeutic essential oils, and South African indigenous herbs and vegetable oils, to repair and regenerate skin, stiff muscles and joints. The cream is filled with a fresh and aromatic scent. From healing to starting a business, it has been a tough path. Sister Jenny says: «Taking the Empretec course and learning the personal entrepreneurial competencies has been among my key success factors. I learned to establish goals and undertake systematic planning and monitoring. I just got better daily even when things were difficult for me». The Small and Medium Enterprise Development Agency (SEDA)- which hosts Empretec in South Africa- also provided Sister Jenny with coaching to improve her knowledge in financial management

Sister Jenny and export development. The JEN-TIL TOUCH business is able to employ 11 permanent and 10 temporary staff. «Today I am able to mentor and motivate young people to create their own small businesses.»

Sister Jenny's JEN-TIL CREAMS have followed the standard regulations and obtained the South African NAPPI so that they can be supported by various medical aids. ## Thiane Diagne: Jour J Couture Thiane's luxury ethnic clothing line thrives by its innovation and creativity. She started more than 16 years ago with a vision to combine Senegalese tradition with modern creations and high quality fabrics. Since then, her company - Jour J - translated as «D - day» is constantly developing new lines of luxury items for important events such as weddings, baptisms and galas.

The Empretec competency of opportunity-seeking has allowed her to constantly identify new niche markets, and this has been the key to her success. For example, in 2006 during her pilgrimage to Mecca, she received a lot of attention for the outfit that she was wearing, which was her own creation. Right there, she realized that this was an interesting business opportunity. She recalls, «The following year, I took the initiative to create a clothing line for pilgrims and it was a total success.»

Another Empretec competency that she considers particularly important is «taking calculated risks.» In the earlier years as she was starting up, she took the risk to finance one of her first clothing collections, including 64 creations, for a renowned event - out of her own pocket. The risk paid off as she gained great visibility and allowed her to increase her customer base.

Today, the company is based in a prestigious residential area of Dakar and employs 29 people. Thiane's goal is to always stay ahead of her competitors, many of whom produce counterfeit versions of her creations in the black market. She has managed to overcome this obstacle by regularly launching new lines and always focusing on quality services and imaginative designs. Her ambition is to produce on a large scale and expand across Senegal and Africa. Empretec has already helped her on the right path towards achieving this goal, as shortly after the Empretec workshop she exported her creations for the first time to Cameroon.

Martin Diaz (28) creates Lipomize, a start-up with knowledge-based innovation

Martin was a student of Administration of the Universidad Nacional del Litoral (UNL) in Santa Fe', Argentina.

The faculty's curriculum did not offer any enterprise and entrepreneurship training. Martin says: "The entire curriculum was preparing me as a manager, to become a good employee". However, at an entrepreneurship centre operated at the University, Martin started an internship while completing his studies. After the internship, Martin continued to work at the centre as an assistant and within his functions provided assistance in writing business plans. Many of the students who came to the centre worked on scientific projects mainly with a focus on continuing research. But Martin could see that there were many projects that presented an opportunity for commercial application. He started dreaming about building a multidisciplinary team.

In 2007, Martin started to pull a team together. The trigger was a day event: "The Young Entrepreneurs' Day" organized by the University. Martin pitched an idea about financial services but he met there a lot of people who had a scientific background and presented projects with higher innovation and social impact than his own idea about financial services. He felt biotechnology was a modern science with high social impact on health and human well-being at large.

Martin started to collaborate with three chemical and biotechnology experts. Martin further developed his entrepreneurship skills by attending the Empretec course. After the Empretec training, he acquired the motivation to invest time and energy to learn about biotechnology by seeking information personally, observing and listening, and networking with experts. The winning of the Innovation Award sponsored by Banco de la Nación and Empretec became the second trigger for the establishment of Lipomize, constituted then of five young partners. Martin says: "I recognize that the award was an accelerator for the start-up". Headquartered within the UNL, and incubated in the Parque Tecnológico del Litoral Centro – SAPEM, "Lipomize" provides flexible and customized products for their clients. The firm uses liposomes as a vehicle for administration of nutrients, pharmaceutical drugs, and cosmetics.

Martin recognizes that Lipomize's strengths are its multidisciplinary approach and the ability to continuously build its support network. Among the most important partners and supporters is the Argentina Foundation of Nanotechnology (FAN). Lipomize and Martin personally are committed to take into account sustainability, taking care of recycling, and ensuring long term social gains, particularly in public health.

Omar Al-Assi (23) quits his job to found Transparent Plastic Packaging: Packaging Supplies & Equipment

Prior to starting his business, Omar worked for a year in the production line in a furniture-making factory.

Realizing his job offered limited prospects, Omar decided to start his own business.

Uncertain about how to turn his idea into a 'business', Omar enrolled in the Business Development Centre, Jordan's Empretec centre's Entrepreneurship Training Workshop, which he says, was the beginning of his real business journey: "Empretec taught me that I have to feel the pain of starting from scratch to enjoy future achievements. The workshop provided the entrepreneurial competencies I needed to start my own business and that was the beginning of my success. Empretec gave me the confidence to believe in myself as a young aspiring entrepreneur and the trainers motivated me to pursue my dream and achieve my goals, and to never take no for an answer."

After completing the workshop, Omar started his venture while still working at the furniture-making factory. Prior to launching his business, he conducted market research and soon realized that he had a lot to learn to fully understand the business before hiring any staff. Unable to handle the growing orders by himself, Omar began hiring new staff. Located in Madaba, Jordan, Transparent Plastic Packaging Manufacturing Faculty currently employs 9 people who are helping Omar to grow his business. A thriving entrepreneur, Omar is also proud to contribute to generating employment opportunities for local young Jordanians.

Peace Victoria Nyero: a young graduate with no job, builds a thriving business

Peace , a young woman from Uganda, participated in the Business and Enterprise Start-up Tool (BEST),

an attitudinal and mindset transformational programme for young people provided by Enterprise Uganda, Empretec's local implementing partner. Designed to empower educated urban and rural-based populations to become engaged in economic activities, BEST is a five-day training programme which helps young entrepreneurs to build their inner confidence – a barrier that limits young's people entrepreneurial initiative and equips them with practical tools to start a business.

Peace Victoria was unemployed at the time and saw an announcement for the Empretec training in the local media. She saw this as an opportunity. After attending the five-day training, Peace Victoria's confidence grew, with the belief in herself giving her the boost she needed to venture into self-employment.

Some important lessons learnt during the training – using resources wisely while finding ways to save money and investing back into the business - came in handy for Peace Victoria who started her poultry enterprise with $50 from her savings. With a can-do attitude and positive mind-set, Peace Victoria is operating a thriving business in a sector that is largely dominated by men and mature women in her country, proving that with hard work and the right skills and attitude, young people can compete in business and succeed. She now employs six people and plans to open a full-scale modern poultry farm next year.

Hugo Gacharna: Empretec Business Creation Exercise encourages Colombian unemployed to jump start a business

51 years old Hugo Gacharna was starting to despair after some time unemployed, barely surviving as a beneficiary of subsidies by the national insurance by CAFAM - the local Empretec host. His expectations were high when he took the Empretec course in 2012.

Hugo says: «Empretec was a turning point for me. I was able to address my weaknesses, set clear goals, build on achievements to strengthen my self-confidence, and transform my behaviours to achieve the competency levels required to be an entrepreneur». During the training itself, Hugo started a business named «Sopas», together with his wife to serve customers typical food.

The business started with just home deliveries but it grew fast and Hugo is even able to export to neighboring countries Venezuela and Panama.

Hugo says he continues to use the Empretec material daily:» It is very useful to refer to the Empretec manual when dealing with commercial and human resources management issues. It also helps me in the identification of new business opportunities. Empretec has changed my life. I was able to become a good manager, an entrepreneur open to new opportunities, seeking to improve quality, making use of new technologies to improve processes and services».

Felipe Oronã: Blend Sucos e Café: Smoothie & Juice Bar

It all started with Empretec. At the time, I worked in a multinational company with excellent pay, a position of leadership, with benefits, but always having the dream of owning my own business.

I therefore took the Empretec training in 2011 and today, two years later, my dream became reality. The sleepless nights creating business plan and feasibility studies were worthwhile.

One of Blend Sucos e Café's fruit based products

Today I can say very proudly that the «Blend Sucos & Café» is open and registered. It offers quality products such as premium sugar, creamy, dried and selected fruits, vegetable salad with fish or meat.

It is important to say that this was made possible by what I learned in Empretec. Entrepreneurs have many behavioural characteristics, but very few develop them. The seminar challenged my limits, and showed me my potential and my ability to be the entrepreneur I am today.

I invested more equity than I had planned, but always remembering that it was a calculated risk and in line with my business plan. I used the network and contacts of several of my Empretec class and several Empretec partners helped me to set up my business, facilitating inputs and services from their own companies (painting, equipment etc).

I constantly meet with my staff, to improve and find new products. I am always trying to increase my revenues, building loyal customers and encouraging them to purchase more of my company's products. The result, after just three months of operation was outstanding with a high return on investment and with well-defined growth projections. So, in 2014 Blend Sucos e Café plans to open its second store and then formalize its expansion in the form of franchises.

Empretec Saudi Arabia

The Empretec Saudi Arabia project aims at delivering training activities in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia (KSA) to local entrepreneurs, ideally complementing the offer of financial and advisory services to Small and Medium-sized Enterprises (SMEs) offered by the Saudi Credit & Savings Bank (SCSB), a Development Governmental Bank and Empretec local counterpart. SCSB has launched several programmes to support and nurture SMEs in the country and officially requested UNCTAD's assistance to install the Empretec programme in KSA.

These activities are part of a 12-month inception phase, which includes the preparation and delivery of 7 initial entrepreneurship training workshops (ETWs) in 2014 and the assistance to SCSB to set up an appropriate institutional framework to host the Empretec programme as well as to build the capacity of local trainers to deliver ETWs, through an on-the-job training process leading to their certification.

Partnerships

Cepepe established a new partnership with the COWI/IGIP group. COWI, in a joint venture with the German consulting company IGIP, will deliver technical assistance to water supply, water resources management and sanitation to both government projects (PPEA) and small Beninese enterprises over the next three years. From job seekers, these entrepreneurs transformed themselves in job creators and from self-employment opportunity, these two firms increased their workforce by 10%. One firm is also exploring export markets, with a focus on neighbouring countries, such as Panama and Venezuela.

Highlights of 2013

Agribusiness business linkages development programme for SMEs and the corporate sector

Under the patronage of UNCTAD and FDC, one of the most important Mozambican national NGO dealing with the sustainable community development, Enterprise Mozambique Foundation (EMF) partnered with APDGA, a Gaza Province NGO, on the implementation of a pioneering initiative to foster commercial agribusiness in the Gaza Province. Some 50 selected entrepreneurs were involved in this initiative; they received training and assistance with the preparation of their business and action plans as well as mentoring during the whole 2010. In Rotanda, Manica Province, EMF is implementing UNCTAD's Business Linkages Programme with smallholder farmers and CDM (a brewing company, subsidiary of SABMiller) on barley production. 2010 was a very promising year, which allowed EMF and farmers to expect an even more productive 2011 (a few hundred Tons of barley in 2011 from about 100 smallholder farmers).

The expectation is to reach over 1,000 Tons in the near future, so that the installation of a barley processing plant in the region could be envisaged by CDM.

Women Entrepreneurship Development programme

EMF was selected by ILO (International Labour Organization) Maputo, as the lead organization to deliver a programme to foster women entrepreneurship in three regions of Mozambique (North, Centre and South). The programme started in 2010 and continued during 2011, involving about 100 women who were selected for a training programme and assisted with the formulation of their business action plans. The implementation of all the plans were then monitored for a one year period. The main objective of the programme was to encourage and support women in creating or expanding their business, with the goal to make them successful role models to be emulated.
