I. Future Investment Conference 2026 – Shaping the Future of Investment in a Changing World

The Future Investment Conference 2026 will convene global leaders in Xiamen, China, at a pivotal moment for the world economy. As international investment enters a new phase of transformation—driven by technological change, sustainability imperatives and shifting global value chains—China stands at the forefront of this transition.

Global FDI flows +6%

Bringing together policymakers, sovereign wealth funds, institutional investors and industry leaders, the Conference provides a unique platform to explore how capital can drive innovation, industrial upgrading and sustainable growth.

With global foreign direct investment reaching $1.6 trillion but increasingly concentrated in a narrow set of sectors and economies, the need for new partnerships has never been greater. The Conference will highlight emerging opportunities in artificial intelligence, clean energy, advanced manufacturing and future industries, while fostering dialogue between China and the world.

From high-level government participation to global investment leaders, the Future Investment Conference 2026 offers unparalleled access to decision-makers shaping the future of investment.

Join us in Xiamen to connect with global capital, unlock new opportunities and help define the future of investment in a changing world.

FDI $1.6 trillion
