

Introduction of the Issues Paper on Digital Development

CSTD Inter-sessional Panel,
26-28 November, 2014, Geneva

Dong Wu
Chief, Science and Technology Section,
Division Technology and Logistics, UNCTAD

27 November 2014
Geneva, Switzerland

Overview

- ❑ The Changing ICT4D Landscape
 - ❑ Changing digital technologies
 - ❑ Changing digital demographics
 - ❑ Changing development priorities
- ❑ ICTs and the Post-2015 Development Agenda
- ❑ Lessons for Policy-Making

The Changing Digital Development Landscape

1. Changing Digital Technologies

Big data

Datafication

Cloud Computing

The internet of Things

Smart Systems

Five Big Trends in ICTs

Emerging Technologies

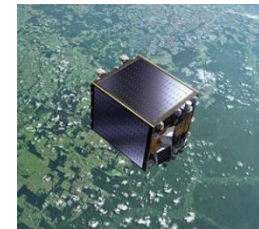

Rural Wifi through Whitespace

Digital Inclusion

Next Generation Small Satellites

Digital Sustainability

The Changing Digital Development Landscape

2. Changing Digital Demographics

Old Internet World

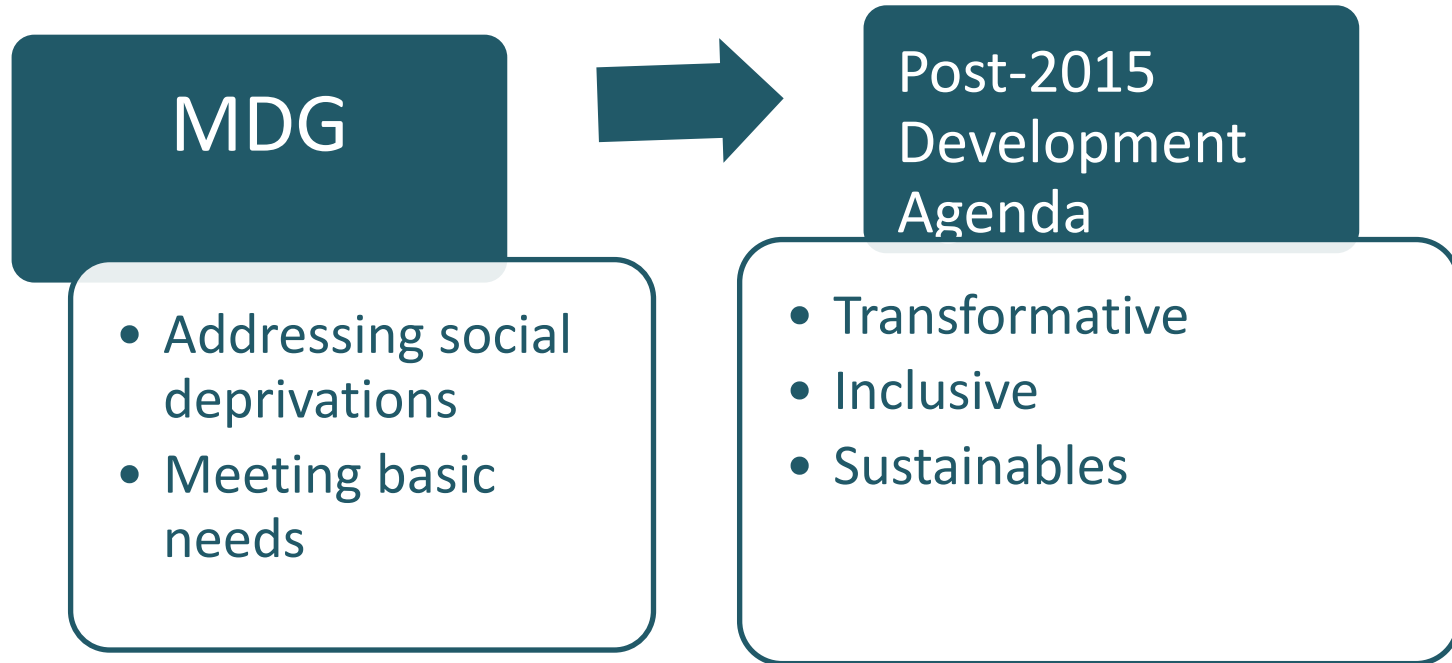

New Internet World

The Changing Digital Development Landscape

3. Changing Development Priorities

ICT and the Post-2015 Development Agenda

1. ICT & Transformation

Economy

Incremental Transformations

Remove Information barriers

Reduce Operational Cost

Expand Market Reach

Disruptive Transformations

Digitally Enabled Goods

Digital Business Models

Open Source Models

Politics

Incremental Transformations

Fair Access to Public Services

e-Government

Giving Voice to the Voiceless

Disruptive Transformations

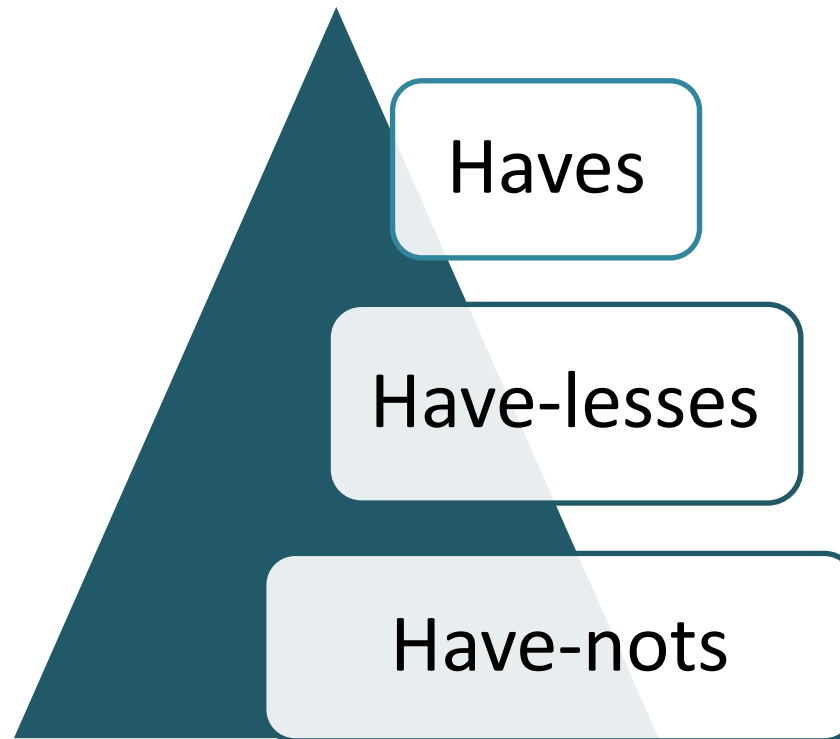

Co-producing Public Goods

Limiting Corruption

Participatory Decision Making

ICT and the Post-2015 Development Agenda

2. ICT & Inclusiveness

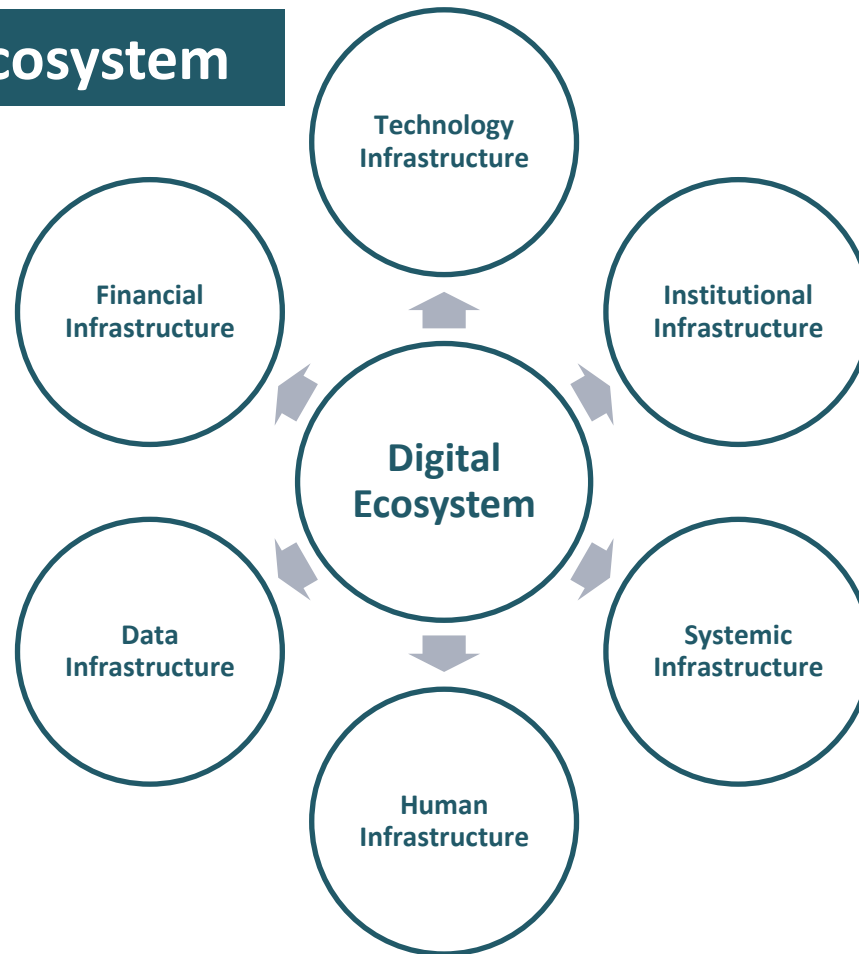

ICT and the Post-2015 Development Agenda

3. ICT & Sustainability

First Order Effects Production e-wastes	Second Order Effects Smart grids Mitigation
Rebound Effects Behavioral Changes Leisure activities	Third Order Effects Consumption patterns Aggregation effects

Lessons for Policy Making

Digital Ecosystem

Thank you

UNITED NATIONS
UNCTAD

Dong Wu
Chief, Science and Technology Section,
Division Technology and Logistics, UNCTAD

27 November 2014
Geneva, Switzerland