• University and technical education sector disconnected from business demand.
• Slow development of necessary regulations for the sectors, new services and that allow to assume commitments at international level.
What are the opportunities that Paraguay has for its development within the Services Sector

- Basic infrastructure for the development of the country as roads, road works,
- Legal framework to promote internal and external trade.
- Greater investments in education and improvement in institution capacity building. Improvement in efficiency and transparency.

The need to be able to provide general guidelines, public policies and incentives that contribute to boosting the sectors prioritized in Paraguay, is of particular importance for the country to have a National Plan to identify potential and vulnerable sectors, with advantages for their Insertion in foreign trade.

The aim is to strengthen the National Services Sector by obtaining public policy instruments that allow the sector to boost and consolidate, improving institutional management, leading to a better quantification of the Sector, with policies to support and improve sectorial competitiveness.

Have a "National Plan on Commercial Services", with a participative projection, involving both the public and private sector of Paraguay, with an internal vision for the search of external markets, on those sectors identified, prioritized and with potential for its internationalization, becomes a requirement for the country.

Within this context, there is an urgent need to promote, raise awareness and raise awareness of the importance that the Services sector currently has over the country's productive structure. Therefore, it is necessary that the studies, diagnoses and plans drawn are accompanied by a cycle of momentum and socialization. Within this scheme, an Awareness Plan on Trade in Services is incorporated, with a wide national scope.
