UNCTAD’s sector definition, indicators and data source for oceans based sectors for the Oceans Economy and Trade Strategies Project

- DRAFT Working document. Version 25 April 2018 -

UNCTAD identified 12 sectors relevant to a development strategy focusing on the ocean/blue economy. These 12 sectors comprise both goods and services. Each sector includes several products. To assess the trade potential for each these sectors, UNCTAD compiled a series of indicators. These indicators are comparable across sectors of the same unit of analysis and can share the same data sources. Indicators within the same sector may not be available at the same level of disaggregation.

The objective of this exercise is to help identify four sectors with highest trade potential, for which the consultant will produce more detailed factsheet under the UNCTAD-DOALOS Oceans Economy and Trade Strategies (OETS) Project. This identification requires a clear decision matrix. In addition to the indicators listed for each sector, some basic facts on both supply and demand trends and dynamics should be provided at the regional and world level. The list provided is illustrative and uses HS codes (2012), W120 Trade in Services Classification and the UN CPC V2.1 (2015) (only for services not fully covered by W120).

It is important to note that data on goods is more available and to a greater level of disaggregation. In the case of services, even if classifications exist, the gathering of data is usually much aggregated. In services, better data can be found in tourism, maritime transport, and ports services.
