Voluntary Peer Review on Competition Law and Policy: Egypt

Wednesday, 3 July 2024 (15:30 - 18:00)
Palais des Nations, Room XIX (Third Floor)

The purpose of the voluntary peer reviews of competition law and policy is to provide an expert assessment of the effectiveness of competition law; to identify the challenges to be addressed and areas to be improved in the legal and institutional frameworks; to assess the competition awareness of relevant stakeholders and their contributions in this area; to formulate and recommend appropriate measures; and to assist countries in implementing the recommendations.

In 2023, Egypt volunteered to undergo this exercise focusing on the legal, institutional, and operational aspects of consumer protection in the country. The UN Trade and Development (UNCTAD) secretariat produced a background report,¹ whose overview is available in all official United Nations languages.²

This report will serve as a basis for the peer review discussions. The review panel will include representatives of competition authorities of Brazil and European Commission, and competition experts. In addition, delegates will have an opportunity to contribute to the discussion from the floor.

The peer review will provide the competition authority of Egypt with an invaluable opportunity to draw lessons from the experiences of other competition authorities in competition law and policy. UN Trade and Development will use the findings and policy recommendations of the peer review report to design a technical assistance project to strengthen the competition regime in Egypt. UN Trade and Development wishes to invite development partners and donors to support this project, which will be presented during the session.
