

Intersessional Panel of the United Nations Commission on Science and Technology for Development (CSTD)

Geneva, Switzerland
26-28 November 2014

Contribution by

Mexico on behalf of GRULAC countries (members of CSTD)

DISCLAIMER: The views presented here are the contributors' and do not necessarily reflect the views and position of the United Nations or the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development.

Mexico on behalf of GRULAC countries (members of CSTD)

I speak on behalf of the GRULAC countries participating in the Panel.

We would like to thank you for the presentation of the mapping and gap analysis of International Internet Public Policy issues and, particularly to the CSTD-Secretariat for the excellent work in compiling the report as mandated by the ECOSOC.

The GRULAC recognizes the value of the report and acknowledges the important role it can play in the conclusion of the review process of the WSIS outcomes. In order to reflect the position of stakeholders and governments of all regions, it is important to allow time to conduct a careful review of this document as it was made public only last Friday.

Therefore, the region would like to stress that due to the scope of the analysis, we cannot make specific recommendations at this stage; therefore we propose to extend the period of time to allow further reflection in order to make it complete and exhaustive.”