

A Breakthrough for People and Planet

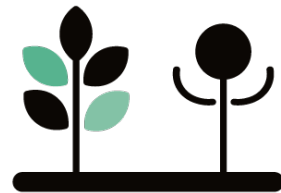

Effective and Inclusive Global Governance for
Today and the Future

The Six Transformative Shifts

Rebuild Trust in Multilateralism

Improve Legitimacy and Effectiveness Through Inclusion and Accountability

Plant and People

Regain Balance with Nature and Provide Clean Energy for All

Global Finance

Ensure Sustainable Finance that Delivers for All

Digital and Data Governance

Support a Just Digital Transition that Unlocks the Value of Data and Protects Against Digital Harms

Peace and Prevention

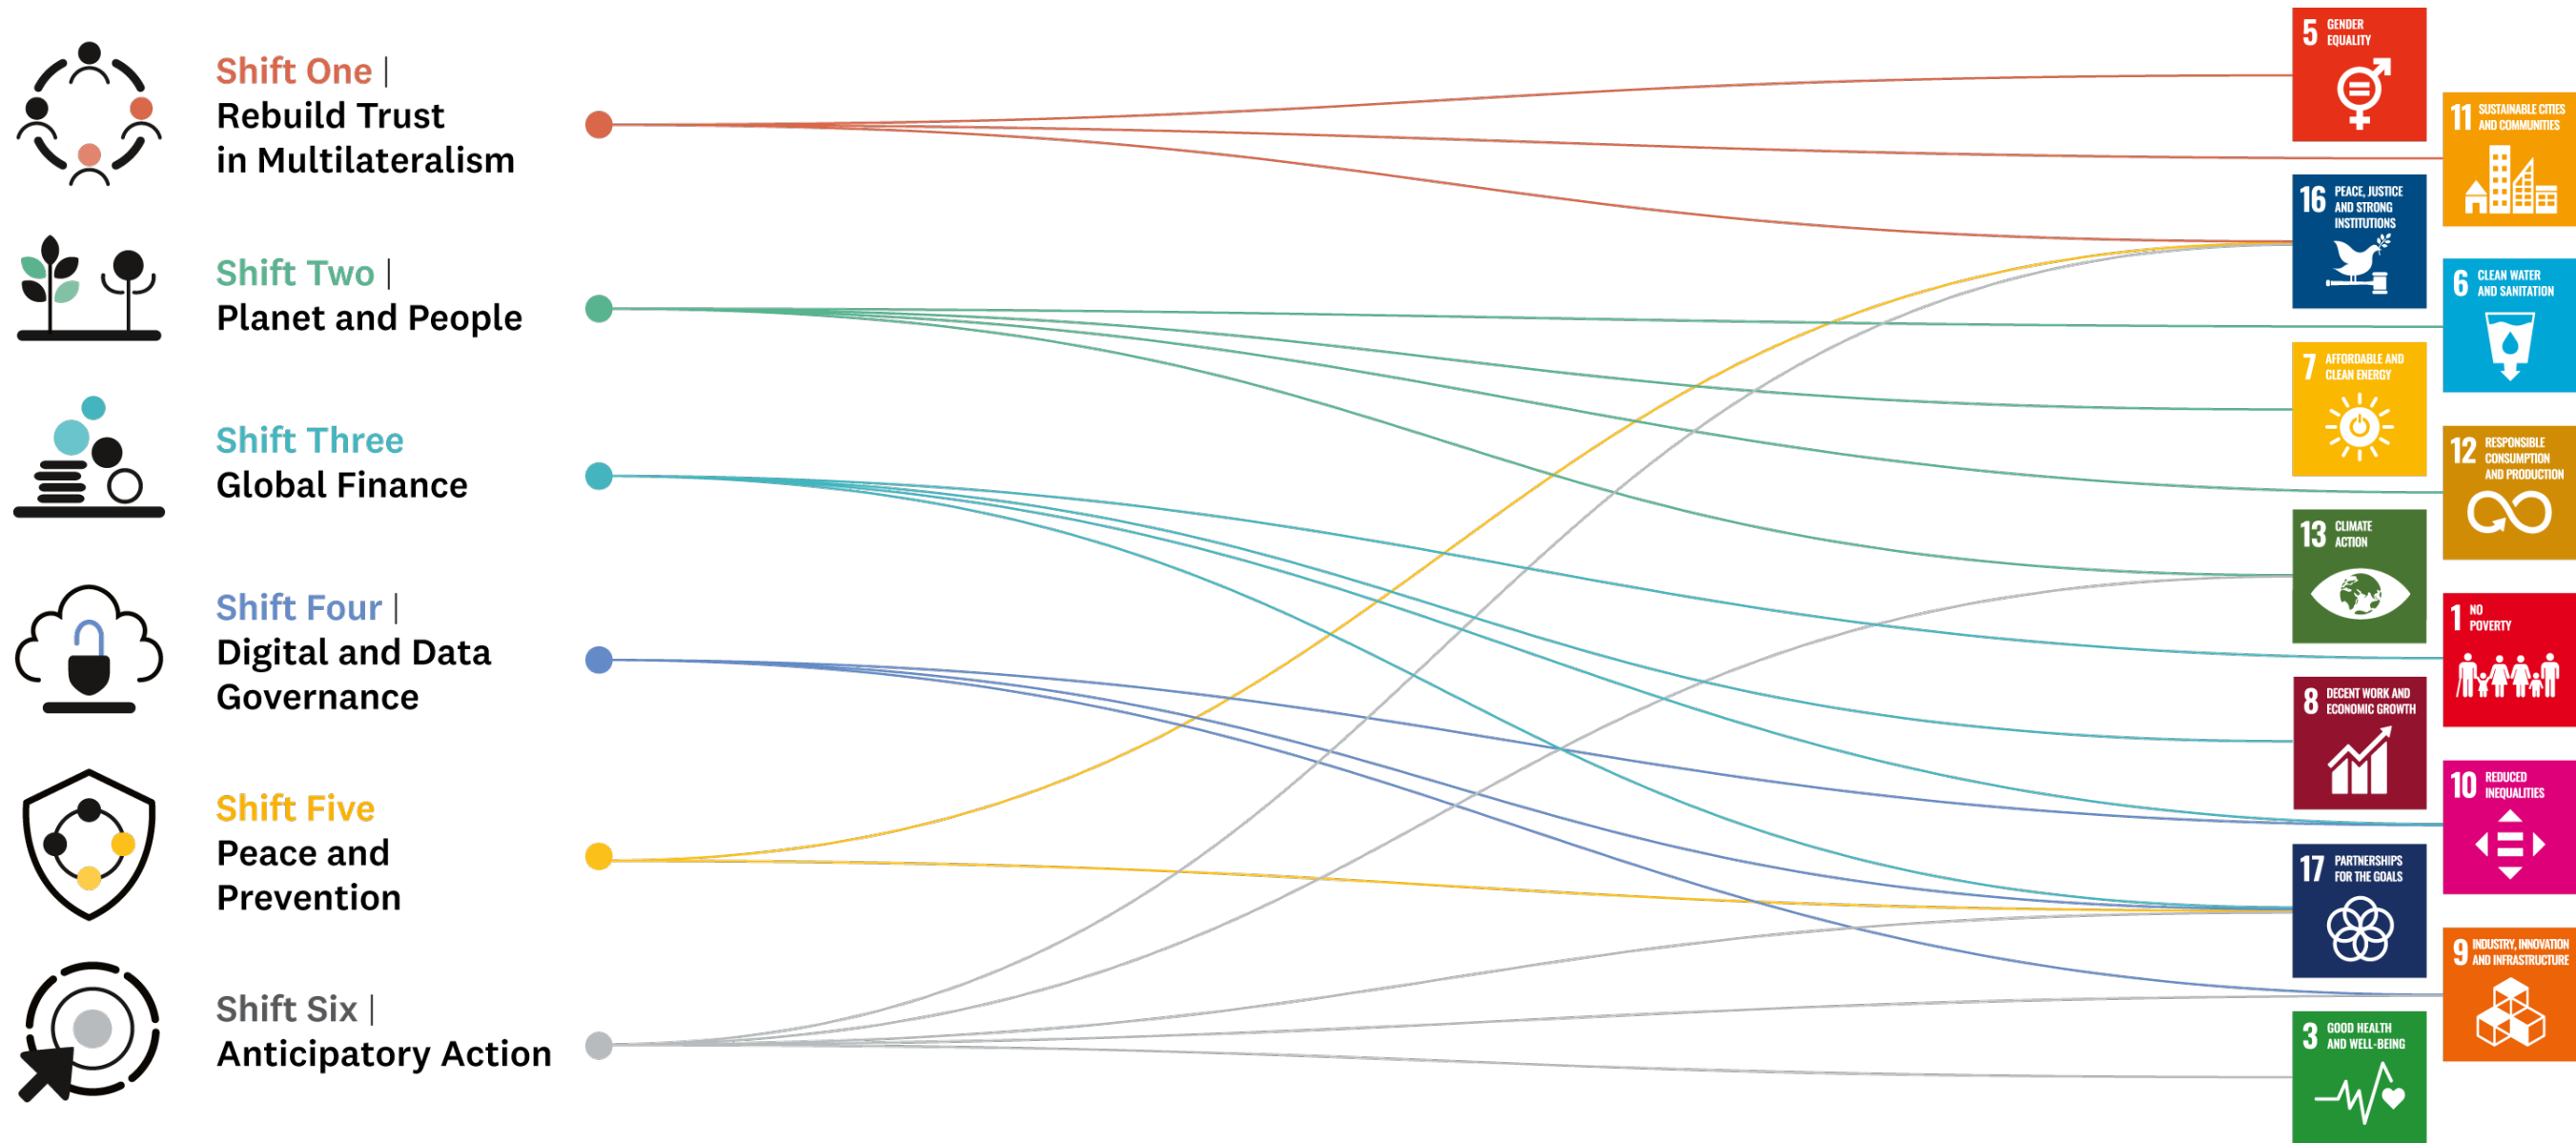

Empower Equitable, Effective Collective Security Arrangements

Anticipatory Action

Strengthen Governance for Current and Emerging Transnational Risks

Alignment with the SDGs

Shift 1: Rebuild Trust in Multilateralism

Inclusive, effective multilateralism requires a fundamental transformation towards more distributed, networked & accountable decision-making for our collective well-being.

Recommendations:

- Represent “we the peoples” in the multilateral system
- Meaningful inclusion of cities and regions
- Include & obligate the private sector
- Innovations for more effective decision-making.

Principles of Effective Multilateralism

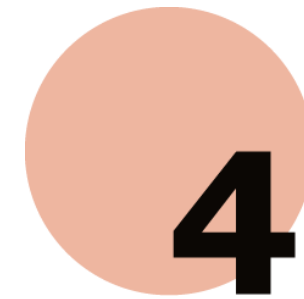

PEOPLE-CENTRED

REPRESENTATIVE

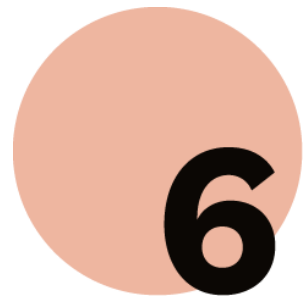

TRANSPARENT

EQUITABLE

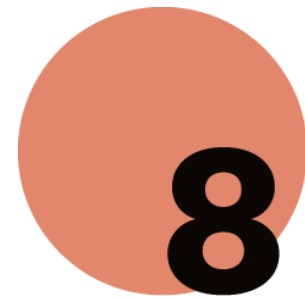

NETWORKED

RESOURCED

MISSION-FOCUSED

FLEXIBLE

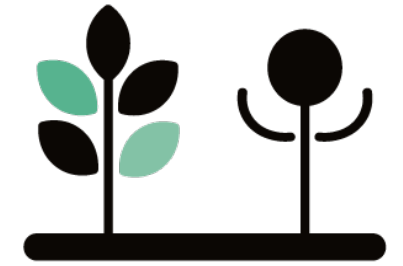

ACCOUNTABLE

FUTURE-ORIENTED

Shift 2: Planet and People

To flourish as a species, we must regain balance with nature & with one another, treating ecosystems as a primary asset for securing our collective well-being.

Recommendations:

- Conclude a pact for people & planet
- Equitably distribute clean energy
- Price & regulate carbon for a just, green transition
- Elevate the environment within the multilateral system.

Shift 3: Global Finance

A rapid, sizeable increase in long-term investment for people & planet will reduce inequalities and safeguard our shared life support systems.

Recommendations:

- Repurpose the Multilateral Development Bank system
- Strengthen the Global Financial Safety Net
- Ensure greater automaticity & fairness in SDR allocations
- Enact governance changes at the World Bank and IMF
- Strengthen the global debt architecture
- Facilitate regulatory frameworks for financial flows
- Pursue global taxation reforms.

Shift 4: Digital and Data Governance

The solutions developed over the next few critical years will shape societies for decades to come. Our solutions must be human-centered & rights-respecting; encourage open dialogue, exchange & learning between cultures & sectors; & build on past successes.

Recommendations:

- Support a just digital transition by addressing digital poverty, inequality & harms.
- Lay the foundations of an enabling architecture for the data century.

Shift 5: Peace and Prevention

Evolving our global governance arrangements can more effectively and legitimately address the broad range of risks to our collective security.

Recommendations:

- Commit to our collective security
- Reform Security Council, strengthen Peacebuilding Commission
- Collective security frameworks between UN & regional orgs
- Increase transparency on peace & security
- Strengthen & accelerate denuclearization.

Shift 6: Anticipatory Action

We need to position the multilateral system to more nimbly and effectively respond to emerging threats & act quickly and decisively in situations of uncertainty.

Recommendations:

- Broaden understanding of & responses to the security risks posed by climate change
- Governance of biological & health risks
- Safe, effective management of emerging technologies
- Combat transnational organized crime.

<https://highleveladvisoryboard.org>