Initiative Objective

The Digital Society Initiative, operating under the auspices of the DPC and supported by Korea, would help advance the DPC's work on the societal aspects of digital transformation including its implications for human rights, by integrating relevant expertise from across the DPC, its Working Parties and initiatives, and drawing from across the DPC's data infrastructure and on work from relevant OECD bodies. It will provide a regular venue for countries to discuss, exchange and explore policy case studies on related issues.
